

Frank's QUALITY

On kitchen and pantry shelves throughout America many of these Frank's High Quality Food Products stand ready to add delightful zest to meals; others provide delicious, flavorful spreads. Marketed at popular prices through all types of food distribution channels, these products bring welcome aid to those millions of discriminating housewives who are constantly seeking new ways to make mealtime and snacktime more tempting and nutritious. Packaged in a uniform, colorful manner, Frank's Products are easily identified, increasingly popular.

FOOD PRODUCTS

This colorful group of Frank's Food Products is only a symbol of the numerous fancy items that make up each well known line. Many of the products, of course, are available in various sizes. There are a number of additional sauces and the complete list of spices and extracts is a lengthy one. This group, however, shows the wide range of Frank's Products—a range that is being gradually increased by the addition of new items—but only when each new item matches the quality and acceptability of its predecessors.

