

Rebecca Gratz

1875-1975

A project of the American Jewish Archives on the Cincinnati campus of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion

REBECCA GRATZ (1781-1869), of Philadelphia, established in 1838 the first Jewish Sunday School in the United States. Miss Gratz, a notable communal worker in the general and Jewish communities, was an observant Jew and one of the most cultured women of her generation